JOHNSON WANTS CLEAN HEALTH BILL FOR LEGISLATORS

ASSEMBLYMAN DEMANDS SKIRTS OF LEGISLATURE BE CLEARED.

"IS FINE BODY" Declares This Legislature Must Investigate or the Next One Will.

Madison.—The Johnson joint resolution calling for a sweeping investigation into alleged personal and official misconduct by members of the legislature was given brief but lively consideration in the lower house Thursday morning. A motion by Assemblyman John Gamper that action be deferred until Friday carried, 45 to 28.

The resolution was taken up under unanimous consent agreement on request of Assemblyman Prescott of Milwaukee. Mr. Prescott declared that he was "heartily in favor of such an investigation" and that he "wanted the people to know that they had at least a clean assembly."

"What Are Potting Parties?"

The Milwaukee representative declared it "was not fair for the assembly to put in six months hard work and then go home under a cloud." He assailed the resolution on the grounds that it made no concrete charges. He expressed the belief that if an investigation were ordered "the dome of the capitol would shake before the probe was completed."

Among other things the resolution asserts that members of the legislature have indulged in "booze parties" and "potting parties." Assemblyman Kilian of Jefferson county asked Mr. Johnson the meaning of the term "potting parties" and the latter answered that Mr. Kilian would know if he had seen newspaper accounts of alleged escapades on the part of legislators in the capitol two months ago.

Gamper Called Down

Mr. Kilian asked that he be read "not believe everything he read in newspapers" and that if "newspaper gossip was the only foundation for the resolution it is not worthy of consideration."

Assemblyman Gamper made strenuous objection to immediate action on the resolution and became so vehement in his argument that he was admonished by Speaker Dahl. Mr. Gamper then moved that the resolution be laid over until tomorrow and his motion carried.

JOHNSON DECLARES ALL ARE INNOCENT

Madison.—Assemblyman E. E. Johnson of Burnett county yesterday introduced in the lower house a joint resolution calling for a comprehensive investigation into charges of personal and official misconduct on the part of certain legislators, declared that he is convinced there is "absolutely no ground for the charges" but that he wanted to clear the air in order to clear the names of himself and other assemblymen.

"It has been charged both through the press and on the floor of the assembly that members have appeared on the floor while in a drunken condition, that they indulge in drinking and gambling parties, and that they accept bribes from outsiders to advocate or oppose certain legislation."

"I flatly deny the truth of any (Continued on page 12)

SENATE WILL TRY ANOTHER INVESTIGATION

Madison.—A third senate resolution, directed at alleged illegal activities on the part of the state department heads and officials, may be made in the senate Friday, it was learned on good authority Thursday. This resolution is reported to be specific in its terms and to name certain departments where infractions of the law were reported to have taken place.

An investigation of these reports by a senate committee will be asked, according to reports. The senate's Governor, who sponsored the first move for an inquiry into the state of affairs in the capitol, is expected to introduce the new resolution. It is said to be specific in its terms and to outline conditions which are to be investigated should the proposal be accepted.

DEMOCRATS AWAIT REACTION FROM PRESIDENT'S TRIP

HOPE FRICION WILL BE DEVELOPED IN WAKE OF SPEECHES.

BORAH WATCHED

Need for Conservative Vote Next Election May Muzzle Idaho Solon.

By DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright, 1923, by Janesville Daily Gazette.

Washington.—The democrats look upon President Harding's western trip without apprehension or concern. They really think it will ultimately yield political benefits in their direction.

President Taft's swing around the circle was followed by widespread and increasing uneasiness in the republican party. Disaffection exists in the ranks of republicanism today, especially in the west. The democrats are not expecting a third party to be developed this time as in 1912 but in a friendly way the republican party will tend to enhance the opportunity of the democrats to elect a platform and nominate a candidate of special appeal to the discontented elements.

No plan has been made to trail the president's speeches. The strategy of the democrats is to let Mr. Harding have the political stage to himself. (Continued On Page 2)

Heat Routs Senate Dignity and Coats; Galluses on Parade

Madison.—Heat got the better of the Wisconsin senate's dignity yesterday as the result of the senators doffed their coats for the first time within the memory of veteran legislators.

Senators complained they had withstood the heat waves to the limit of their endurance, and upon request of Max Heck, Racine, suspending the rule requiring complete dress at all times, in order to assure comfort.

With the removal of coats came a goodly display of suspenders, which upon request of Mr. Tins, were ordered to be removed. Members make up for apparent lack of dignity by showing exemplary personal conduct.

RIDGWAY HURLS BOMB; REFUSES TO BE BRIBED

(By Associated Press.)

Madison.—Sensational charges by Senator Eldo T. Ridgway, Elkhorn, LaFollette progressive republican, featured the debate preceding a vote on the Dahl general income tax bill in the senate. Senator Ridgway declared that he would have to vote against the proposal or be placed in a position of one who was "bought out." He said that during the fight over the governor's tax bill, a senate policeman approached him and asked that Senator Ridgway visit the governor's office to talk over appointment of a judge in the Waikow county court.

"This man asked me," the senator said, "if I was interested in having my friend appointed to the judgeship in my district. I told him that I was not interested, but Senator Ridgway added:

"I have reasonably definite information," the policeman is said to have replied, "that if you go down to the governor's office you can get that job for your friend and further you can get anything you want."

Senator Ridgway referred to the fact that his name had been mentioned for membership on the state board of control. He told the senate that he had never asked for this position nor made any advances to receive it.

"If I now voted for this bill, it would look as though I had sold out," the senator declared. "I will wear no man's red necktie, nor will I be led around with a dog collar around my neck."

"I refuse to take responsibility for defeat of this bill. If my vote defeats it, I supported the finance committee tax bill which I believed to be the best revenue measure of the session. I personally would like to see a tax bill passed, but I cannot honestly vote for this measure after being placed in the position I now find myself."

SENATE VOTES TO KILL DAHL BILL, THEN RECONSIDERS

TITUS CHANGES FRONT WHEN MEASURE IS DOWN.

DESPERATE RALLY

Satisfactory Amendment Is Eleventh Hour Plea of Fond du Lac Man.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

Madison.—The senate voted, 16 to 15, to kill the Dahl general income tax bill, and then, when Senator W. A. Tins, Fond du Lac, changed his vote, reconsidered its action, revising the bill.

On motion of Senator Henry Huber the resurrected tax proposal was carried over until next Wednesday.

LaFollette republicans used every means to save the last tax bill of the session from defeat. They saw the proposal almost die by one vote, only to be brought fully back to life by the changed stand of Senator Titus, who announced that if the measure could be satisfactorily amended, he would support it on another occasion.

Vote on Measure.

A vote on a motion, made by Senator Henry Roethlis, to non-concur in the tax measure, showed the following line-up:

For killing the bill: Bender, Burke, Clark, Czerwinski, Getteman, Kueck, Lange, Mahon, Mowbray, Ridgway, Roethlis, Skogmo, Smith, Tins, White, 16.

Against killing the bill: Barber, Bligden, Cushman, Casperson, Clark, Carey, Heck, Johnson, Kenin, Kueck, Lange, Ridgway, Roethlis, Skogmo, Smith, Tins, White, 16.

Paired: Heck for the bill; Wexler against the bill.

Debate on the proposed revision of the Wisconsin income tax law was featured by the charges of Senator Eldo T. Ridgway, Elkhorn, that an attempt had been made to "buy" his vote by offers of jobs.

CITY FIRE HOUSE WALL IN DANGER

Action Necessary to Prevent Collapse Due to Theater Excavation Work.

Special protective measures must be taken by the city this week to prevent collapse of the north wall of the fire house, which has become endangered through the excavation for footings for the new Franklin theater.

The theater, owned by Light, Thursday, when laborers digging a trench for the concrete base for the south wall of the big theater found the fire station wall only two to four feet thick.

The concrete footings for the theater are to be seven feet in the ground it will be necessary to take some steps to prevent the fire station wall from falling into the excavation.

The engineer house was built in 1876, 47 years ago, according to Chief C. J. Murphy, long before the days of the state building code which requires that foundations be placed on bed rock or seven feet deep. Emil Pautz, contractor for the theater job, says he has obtained two rulings that the owner of an adjoining lot must take care of its property in case construction work next to it endangers it. City Attorney Roger G. Cunningham is making an investigation and in an event he gives a similar decision it will be necessary for the council to take some action to save the wall from falling.

In the meantime it is probable that the fire station wall will be shored up by the south wall of the theater which is being built.

The Price Brooming company, Milwaukee, is on the theater site with a crew of men and a steam hoist preparing for interior erection of the huge steel skeleton.

John Saxe, of Saxe Brothers, Milwaukee, was in the city Thursday inspecting the situation. The south wall of the theater is being built on West Milwaukee street. Practically all of the outside brick work has been completed.

LIQUOR UNDER SEAL PROBLEM

Washington.—Secretary Mellon began a series of conferences Thursday in an effort to clear up the new liquor situation developing from the determination of several foreign companies to bring liquor in American waters under the customs seals of their governments.

Prior to the deliberations, the secretary declared there was no doubt of the general right to seize contraband within American waters, but added that the question whether an agent of the American government dared destroy a foreign government seal presented a grave problem.

Southampton.—The Cunard liner Berengaria, which sailed for New York last Saturday, carried sufficient alcoholic liquors for her return voyage under the same kind of lock and seal as that employed by the White Star liner Olympic, which sailed Wednesday, it is learned.

ANTI-PROFITEERING RESOLUTION PASSED

PARK KEEPER DEPUTIZED BY SHERIFF BELEY

W. D. Gower, custodian of Riverside park for the city, was appointed deputy sheriff of Rock county by Sheriff Fred Beley Thursday. Gower's appointment will give police protection to the 133 acre amusement park.

The contract stipulates that all grounds derived from stands and concessions will be Mr. Gower's, but that he must devote all of his time to the operation of the park. He will stand the expense of all minor improvements made during the season, although the city will pay for added equipment of a major type.

Mr. Gower by virtue of his appointment will have complete police power and will not be allowed to tolerate amusements of a demoralizing nature.

25 INURED WHEN FLAMES SUDDENLY SWEEP TENEMENT

HARDING GREET'S HIS HOME STATE

Passes Through Ohio on Way to St. Louis for Thursday Night Speech.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

On Board the President Harding Special Train, Parkersburg, W. Va.—President Harding spent a few hours with home folks Thursday as the special train carrying him to the west coast, crossed the state of Ohio and then through Indiana and Illinois, en route to St. Louis where the president's executive will deliver his first formal address.

The presidential train entered Ohio in the early morning hours, after traversing a portion of Maryland and West Virginia, completing about 350 miles of the 1,600 miles to the Pacific coast, Alaska, Panama, and Porto Rico. Mr. Harding clearly indicated he was glad to be back in his home state, even though only for a few hours.

The complete relaxation observed by the president since his departure from Washington already appears to have had a beneficial effect.

The plan to rest did not prevent them from continuing to appear on the observation platform of their train, wherever the president halted, and to greet those who gathered at every point.

It became more and more apparent that the presidential party's special train of Parkersburg, West Virginia, was not intended to last during the trip west, soon would be exhausted. Mrs. Harding generously distributed sweet gifts wherever children appeared within reach and usually complied the president's pockets before satisfying their increasing demands.

BELOIT FACULTY IN BIG SHAKEUP

Hamilton and Clark Resign Following Return of Ex-President Eaton.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

Beloit.—Resignation of two Beloit college professors, Dr. W. A. Hamilton and Dean C. A. Clark, has been announced following the resignation statement Tuesday by C. D. Pellet, Chicago, chairman of the board of trustees, that ex-President Edward A. Tamm will return as president ad-interim.

Mr. Hamilton, who was chairman of the administrative committee, which has been operating the college since the departure of President Eaton, resigned Thursday morning because, he asserted, Dean Clark, his colleague on the board, virtually was ousted from his position by the faculty by the planned changes. Dr. Hamilton, one of the oldest Beloit college professors in point of service, has been here since 1902. He has been head of the department of mathematics and astronomy for many years and has been in the administrative department.

Dean Anna Lyle Tamm, another member of the administrative committee, resigned some weeks ago. Dr. George L. Collins succeeded Dean Clark as dean of men at Eaton's request, Pellet said.

Farm Bureau Official Information

JUNIOR CHAMPION TO BE EXHIBITED

Kraft and Perrigo Bull to Show With Two Other Prize Entries.

Rock county will probably have the best array of two year old steers of any county in the state for three have been selected for this class. A judge could place the three any three ways and be justified, according to the men inspecting the stock.

Prince Denver Chismello, twice junior champion of Wisconsin, and a winner at the National, owned by Kraft and Perrigo, will be shown in the Rock county show herd. This two year old is one of the most famous show steers of the state and was shown last year by Jefferson county as an agreement was made when the Beloit owners purchased the bull from the Jefferson county farm.

The good son of Iowan Sir Ollie, owned by Howard Miller, a prize winner last year, will also be shown and there are few better two year olds in type and class.

The Holstein breeders are figuring in sending a number of the show herd candidates to the fair grounds in Janesville during July for proper fitting and this training.

From the John L. Fisher herd, several calves were inspected. One cow from this herd has good prospects and was a winner as a three year old.

In the county herd will be two or three animals owned by Edith and Alice Clark, Janesville. The grandson of Iowan Sir Ollie, is improving under the care of the two club girls. Their club calves of last year will show to an advantage. The heifer of Mildred Zick, Clinton, second prize last year, developed a perfect top-line and exceptional depth, and will be a candidate for show honors.

Want All Breeds
Additional selections were made for the Milkland Short-horn herd from the farm of James Haddon and Son, Rock Prairie. Bull and heifer calves sired by Telluria's Fame, show exceptional class and the champion Telluria will be shown. This animal is in fine condition and while the champion this year will have to show in the age class for the royal purple, it is expected the Haddon herd entry will continue the blue ribbon record made in the last three years.

The selections made by J. C. Nisbet at the present time, are not final. An effort is being made to check up on what the county has for showing and then make selections in time for the entry list to be filed with the state fair.

A start will be made on Guernsey, Brown Swiss cattle, beef Shorthorns early next week. Swine herd are to be lined-up within the next 10 days. Indications are that Rock county will have about 18 entries of live stock and agricultural products at the state fair, including the eight or 10 cars for the county show herd and the produce by the larger individual breeders.

Interest Is Shown
"I am pleased in getting the Kraft and Perrigo Holstein sire for it was 'noised' around the state this animal would be shown again by Jefferson county," stated Nisbet. "I can now really appreciate your slogan—'Rock County First!' Backing up a herd of stock in the state is a healthy boosting spirit that cannot be beat."

The famous McWay draft horses may be exhibited at the state fair. Many breeders are calling the Farm Bureau office or writing, giving information on where one or more of the animals can be secured under the care of the state fair, backed by the Bureau. This aid is appreciated in that there is but a short time to carry on the inspection and starting filing the stock for exhibit.

All the expense that the owner has to purchase a blanket for cattle that becomes his property, and the testing for tuberculosis in the event the herd is not accredited. All other expenses are carried by the pool. The probable benefit is for three or more calves in Wisconsin, including the state fair, and then fair in Illinois, Indiana or Iowa.

"You may depend upon the finest possible co-operation from us," said G. E. Ramsey, secretary of the Wisconsin state fair.

300 Take Part in Annual Picnic in Rock Prairie
An old saying is that for rural citizens, "next to religion, the next best thing is a good picnic."

Citizens of Rock Prairie, pioneers of agricultural Rock county, joined for a pleasant day of recreation at the McWay farm, Arlington, east of Janesville on Wednesday. There were more than 300 present during the afternoon. Each year Rock Prairie citizens have such a program to become better friends, better farmers and better citizens.

The value of community spirit was detailed by the Rev. Ralph Mayo Elkhorn, who made the main address. The Rev. Karl Megchelsen presided.

There were athletic games and contests, featured by a tug-of-war, volleyball and races. J. K. Arnot, county V. M. C. A. secretary, aided in the games program and obtained the equipment used.

The married men defeated the single men 15 to 13 in the ball game. McGowan, center field for the married men, hit a triple with the bases loaded, clinching the game.

PERMANENT CHECK ON BREWERS, PLAN

Final Injunctions Will Be Asked in Federal Court, Says Ryan.

Permanent injunctions against three Wisconsin brewing companies will be asked by Assistant U. S. District Attorney Stanley M. Ryan when Judge C. Z. Luse sits in the district court at Madison, July 25. Temporary injunctions restraining the Marathon City Brewing company, Marathon; Jacob L. Erickson Brewing company, La Crosse; and the Wisconsin Brewing company from the manufacture of brew were obtained last March. The permanent injunction will mean that the United States can at any time bring suit to enjoin the companies of the company brought into court for contempt if found manufacturing brew. It is an easier, cheaper and quicker method of curbing the brewers than through the regular channels.

A citizenship revocation hearing against Freda Charlotte Anderson, Superior, formerly of Hardin county, O., will be held in Madison. Before the hearing the statute is charged by the government.

Walter Bryzinski, Thorp, Wis., will appear to answer two charges of sale and possession of liquor.

Grand jury convenes at Superior, Aug. 30, will investigate the cases of 28 Superior residents caught in the net laid by federal prohibition agents.

self for he is in defensive position anyway and his critics will analyze his statements much more effectively if unhampered by the partisan outbursts of an active political opposition.

The president will have to define the issues. The democrats are in a position to pick flaws in the presidential program without at this time offering an alternative. Their tactics will be to break down the force of the presidential argument and leave until the next democratic convention the task of framing a platform in answer to it.

The democrats will not hesitate to take a leaf out of political guide book of their opponents in hammering away on everything they can, avoiding any continuance in advance of the party convention. More or less the same strategy of guerrilla warfare will be pursued in the next congress except that the democrats will be aided by the group of insurgent republicans who already have begun to make mischief for the Harding contingent.

FORD WANTS POWER PLANT IN WISCONSIN

Madison—The railroad commission announced today that the Ford Motor company of Detroit has applied for a permit to construct, operate and maintain a dam in the Menominee river in Florence county, Wis.

According to specifications included in the application the dam is to be 30 feet high and 400 feet long. It will develop 25,000,000 kilowatts of power, the energy to be used for the Ford mill and manufacturing plants in Michigan.

The dam site is three miles west of the city of Ironwood, Mich., on the Menominee river, which is the boundary line between Wisconsin and upper Michigan.

Part of this interest is because of the participation of the bands in Janesville's mammoth Fourth of July celebration and pageant. Boys are now being measured for white trousers and shirts, to be furnished by the Chamber of Commerce, while the girls in the bands will wear middie. In addition to playing the evening of July 3 and all day July 4, the bands will take part in many other lines of activity. Groups will give character pieces, in distinctive costumes and playing appropriate pieces.

Rehearsals as they are now held are: Thursday afternoon, both junior and senior bands; Thursday night, the same for those unable to come in the afternoon. Thursday morning, juniors and beginners; Tuesday night, ensemble, when no

Smith-Sprackling Nuptials.—Beautiful in its simplicity, one of the most attractive of the June weddings took place Wednesday afternoon when Miss Mildred L. Smith and George Austin Sprackling, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Sprackling, 828 Milwaukee avenue, were united in marriage in the presence of immediate relatives and a few intimate friends. The ceremony was solemnized at 4 o'clock at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. May Smith, 203 Jefferson avenue, the Rev. H. C. Pierson, First Baptist church officiating.

The parlors of the home were decorated with masses of pink and white peonies and white string, while the table decorations in the dining room were of pink and white. A profusion of bloom added an attractive background for the wedding party and the beauty of the marriage ceremony was enhanced by an exquisite musical setting.

Preceding the ceremony, J. Alfred Olsen sang De Koven's "O! Promise Me." Then with George Hatch at the harp and Clayton Redwell at the violin, the soft strains of the Lohengrin wedding march sounded through the rooms and the wedding party took its place between two immense baskets of peonies. During the reading of the service, harp and violin played the Mendelssohn march, and following the exchanging of vows, Mr. Olsen sang "Carrie, Jacob Bond's 'I Love You Truly'." His rich tenor voice making this part of the service most impressive.

The bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. Richard H. Taylor, as matron of honor, and entered the parlor on the arm of her brother, John Alden Smith. The best man was Thomas Ochsner Nazum, this city, and little Karen, 10-year-old daughter, cousin of the bride, was flower girl, walking before the bride and strewing her path with rose petals.

The bride was lovely in a gown of heavy white silk, her long veil caught to her hair with a band of silver leaves, and her slippers of silver. She carried a shawer bouquet of Ophelia roses and swansonias. The matron of honor wore a gown of orchid crepe and she carried La France roses. The little flower girl was in white with pink and lavender ribbons.

Following the ceremony, a two course luncheon was served, six friends of the bride serving. By a happy coincidence, the wedding day was the 83th birthday anniversary of Miss Mary Louise Peterson, cousin of the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Emma Gibbs. ## It Will Not Remain Covered.

Another demand for an inquiry into the morals
and other matters which have become a public scandal at the state capital has once more emphasized the unpleasant situation in the legislature and round and about the center of state government. Gossip has been rampant for weeks.
Stories of derelictions, moral and otherwise, have assumed the size of volumes. Violations of the prohibition laws have been about the least of the charges. Smell of liquor is so frequent that no one gives it any attention.
The frightened Mr. Garey, our senator, was so evidently fearful that an investigation would reflect on the administration of his leader and chief, Governor Blaine, that he was able at first
to sidetrack a resolution for a discovery voyage
in the sea of gossip and scandal floating about the palace at Madison. Then some on conceived the beautiful notion that the state officials ought to do the investigation of themselves in general.
Among the members on the investigation board would be the governor himself. The very idea appeals to one for its absurdity. The public at present is rather indifferent about the legislature. The majority is too busy planting and cultivating the crops. It will soon be harvest time. Later, after the stories now current in larger localities have spread over the whole state
and washed beyond the borders, there will be inquiries as to why nothing was done when opportunity offered. Then, what is now only gossip
will become truths because there has been neither denial nor exoneration. It would seem that men in public life would be more jealous of about their only asset, reputation.

Pass the Dahl baby to the senate.

Trade Balance Again Against Us.

The last report of imports and exports in complete form is for April. The March record was some 90 million dollars against the United States. April shows a little better with $38,502,- 258 as a balance on the import side.
It is natural that we should at once conclude that Europe has gotten the better of us in commerce since we nearly always think of trade in terms of European markets. But that is not true since we sold Europe 16 millions of dollars more goods than we imported. It is in South America and Asia as well as in North America that we have the balance against us. That being so, we are more deeply concerned than as though the balance was made up of European differences in trade. Forty per cent of the April exports were of manufactured articles, 22 per cent of crude materials, and foodstuffs and food animals 6 per cent. Every South American country except Peru and Venezuela show an excess of imports over our exports. Canada was a good customer, buying 15 million dollars more than we did. Asia contributed to the margin also, since exports were 83
millions and we sold only 36 million dollars worth of American goods there.
These reports and figures from month to month
are disconcerting to the prophets who opposed our tariff. The very thing which seemed always to be in mind in the tariff discussion, was the destruction of trade sure to follow in Europe;
but it has not acted that way at all. There is also a lesson in the report of South American imports and the trade with the Orient. We have repeated our long and scandalous failure to get in trade harmony with our South and Central American neighbors. True, we have in recent years, and it grows as years pass, arrived at a place where we must buy constantly more raw materials to be used in manufacture—mostly
minerals and forest products, rubber and lumber.
Foodstuffs outside of sugar and coffee, form only a small part of the imports. Great Britain, Germany, Sweden, Italy, in fact all the larger countries of Europe, bought more goods from us
than we did from them, and the balance of trade is therefore heavily against Europe. We have a great uncultivated market in both the Orient
and Spanish speaking America and here is need for attention.

Perhaps Mr. Harding is going to Alaska to get away from A. Lasker.

The Eskimos are getting civilized. Bigamy, and murder are increasing rapidly.

With a ladies' magazine advertising "Murdered
by Bootleggers," and Harper's advertising a story with these words, "Dope! Murder! Abduction!"
one is led to believe that Hearst has got them both.

We renew our suggestion that formaldehyde is needed at the state capital.

Maybe the Dempsey fight on July 4th will calm
the quakes and other upheavals of the interior of the earth.

When the Lightning Flashes

By FRIEDERICH J. HASKIN

Washington.—Death by lightning is an act of Providence, and the ways of Providence are mysterious and past finding out. Hence the innumerable superstitions as to what to do or what not to do in an electrical storm to guard one's self
against the flaming flashes that carry death and destruction.
Grandmother used to plump herself into the middle of a huge featherbed and cover up her head when the storm god riled the heavens and
threatened the earth, and she deluded herself
with the belief that that was the safest place in the world. Perhaps it is true that no one was ever killed by lightning who had taken refuge in a featherbed, but scientists agree that the feathers
have nothing to do with the immunity enjoyed by those who repose thereon. So don't feel helpless and hopeless if you are sore afraid of lightning and haven't a featherbed in the house.
Then there's that other idea about putting your hands on a window pane on the theory that glass
is a non-conductor.
People who would not stand at an open window,
or at an open door, on the theory that a draft is
a conductor, will close the window and drape
themselves against the glass as the best precaution they can possibly take.
As a matter of fact the window, open or closed,
is decidedly a bad place to be in an electrical storm. The lightning will not follow a draft. It follows the stratum of air having the greatest relative humidity, and there is no evidence that air currents have anything to do with humidity.
But if lightning chances to strike the side of a house or other building, the chances are it will enter the window as the point of least resistance,
and the thin sheet of glass will count for nothing
in the path of the tremendous force of a thunderbolt. Open doorways or closed windows, unless they are of steel or extremely thick, are also to be avoided, according to the experts.
Perhaps the best advice that may be offered
those who live in constant fear of lightning is—forget it! If Jove aims a thunderbolt at you the chances are he will get you, no matter where you are or what you may be doing to safeguard yourself. You may find a great deal of comfort in the mortality records which show that the side of a house about 250,000 to 1 that you will escape the fate
you dread. Moreover, it is well to bear in mind that if you are killed by lightning you will never know anything about it unless you wake up in the hereafter with a good memory. You will never see the flash that gets you, nor hear the crash
that accompanies it.
Lightning does not strike the same place twice. A man was killed on one of the Washington golf courses by a bolt that came, not out of a clear sky, exactly,
but out of one that was not especially threatening or ominous. He was in a flat, open place, and less than 100 yards from him was a tall tree. The best of experts would have advised him not to take refuge under the tree, and that the safest place for him was in the open. And yet if he had been under the tree he would probably have escaped his fate.
However, government experts in the weather bureau have studied the caprices and freaks, as well as the fairly regular habits of lightning, and have arrived at certain conclusions that are of value. They believe that there are certain precautions that one may take that are worth while.
For instance, they will tell you that the safest place you can find when such danger threatens
is in a building, and, if you are alone, at a table,
sitting in a chair, and not to rest yourself between
the furniture, if there be one, and any metallic object.

If you are caught out of doors in a storm, remember the worst place you can find is an isolated tree. You will be safer in the heart of a woods, and safer still if you reconcile yourself
to a thorough wetting in the open. If you must take refuge under a tree, keep away from an oak,
and hunt out a beech, for the records show that the oak is struck 57 times, the fir 39 and the pine 5 times as often as the beech. Next to the beech
in safety come the maple and the birch.
If you are with a number of people, do not huddle together in a group, for it has been ascertained that larger gatherings of men or beasts
offer greater attraction to lightning than do isolated individuals. Just if, perchance, you find yourself near a cave, get away from her as quickly as possible, for caves are more often killed by lightning than any other animals—twice as often,
in fact. Sheep, horses, pigs and mules come next
in the order of risk as to fatality percentages.
When you are indoors, as the storm comes on,
you will do well not to forget the advice as to the deep, dark cellar. But if there isn't a cellar, there are things to avoid. Keep away from open fireplaces and chimneys, keep away from the highest part of a house as the path the lightning is most likely to take. Also, keep away from the side of a house that has a wire clothesline attached to the outside of the wall, and don't get yourself between two metallic objects, such as an iron sink and radiator, or between either of these and a downspout, for in seeking an outlet to the ground lightning has a tendency to jump between metallic bodies.
An especially dangerous place is directly beneath a hanging lamp or an electric light fixture suspended from the ceiling by a chain. Wood, stone, brick and stucco houses are about equal in
the safety they afford, since they are all poor conductors. Steel framed buildings, on the other hand,
are the best conductors, and they are not infrequently struck, but the people inside rarely
even know it, for the lightning is almost invariably quenched quickly and directly into the ground
and its force dissipated.
As to the force of lightning, it is estimated that a thousand million volts are required to send a bolt to the earth from the height of a mile, and the flash that kills ranges from 200 feet to a mile in length and is frequently of 50,000 horse power.
Bolts from high storm clouds have been known to penetrate thirty feet into the earth, and when they strike in sandy soil they form glass tubes by melting the sand as they bore in. The National museum in Washington has several of these
thunderbolt-made tubes that vary in diameter
from a quarter of an inch to three inches.
It also is to be borne in mind that only 50 per cent of the people struck by lightning are killed,
so efforts at resuscitation should be begun as immediately and not abandoned until a physician produces life extinct. The methods to be used are similar to those called for when a person has been rescued from drowning.

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST.

TEN YEAR OLD.
There he is—all curled up there, a
Reading in the big arm chair;
Feet crossed under him, and turning
Pages with adventure burning;
Pushed a little by the fighting
Or some glorious dead exciting.
Eager till the tale is told,
There he is—and ten years old.
Seems but yesterday, or maybe
Just a week ago, a baby
Used to waken with his crying,
And I'd go where he was lying
In his crib and gently shake him,
Or upon my arm I'd take him,
Now just see the way he looks—
Ten years old, and reading books.

There he is, the pages poring,
Strange and dangerous lands exploring,
Sailing seas or riding princes,
Seems but yesterday the fables
Were his playmates in the garden;
Now his muscles grow and harden,
And he dreams of doughtier deeds
In that arm chair as he reads.

Ten years old! Time swiftly speeds,
And I'm seeing as he reads,
Thumbing glad adventure's pages,
What a sudden change of age!
For that bent and boy he's seated
Are my living self repeated—
Look at him, and there behold
Me when I was ten years old.

ON THE SPUR OF THE MOMENT

By ROY K. MOULTON.

A TRAGEDY.

I stood on the bridge at midnight,
The clock was striking the hour,
When a holdup man approached me,
His visage was grim and sour.
And he said: "Bo, I'm in trouble,
My graft, it is coming tough,
For all the graft I've done, some nights
Are nothing but phony stuff.

"Ah, well, may they sport their aces,
And live in their high-priced flats,
But they ain't got nothing on me,
When they pose for the holdup gate.
Oh, sure, they are ablaze with jewels,
But all of them glims is pawk.
I'm sick of workin' the whole night long
For a lot of ten-cent store junk.

"Why, honest, mister, I'm starving,
Them folks they 'o 't rent me square,"
And he lay his head on the old bridge rail,
His some filled the midnight air.
Then a sudden impulse possessed him,
His gun was soon at my vest,
"I'll take one more chance," he muttered,
And reached me with fevered zest.

He grabbed my old watch and eyed it,
His face bore a look of pain,
For he saw 'twas another dollar watch,
And he sadly smiled: "Sting again."
Then he said: "You've deceived me, partner,
You're cheap like them other trash."
And he jumped from that bridge at midnight
And the echoes answered: "Splash."

One thing we absolutely refuse to worry about
is the fact that goldfish have gone up 30 percent in price.

OUR DAILY SHORT STORY.

His Religion.

By Brunella Ditchamper Doukas.
A movie hero gave the name of a clergyman
as reference in a business transaction. The merchant visited the clergyman and asked for particulars concerning the financial standing and reliability of his prospective customer.
"Indeed," said the reverend gentleman hastily, "I can give you no guarantee, my dear sir.
I have merely a desultory acquaintance with the gentleman."
"Why, that's strange," said the merchant
perplexedly. "I told me that he attended your church regularly."
"He does," returned the clergyman with a smile. "He always gets me to marry him."

Who's Who Today

CORDELL HULL.

His recent attack on John T. Adams, chairman of the Republican national committee for Adams' stand on the world court has brought Cordell Hull, chairman of the Democratic national committee, into the limelight.
Hull's name will appear in print more frequently from now on until the 1924 presidential campaign is history.
The Democratic leader is best known as the author of the federal income tax law,
passed 10 years ago. He was born in Overton county (now Pickett), Tenn., October 2, 1871. He attended the National Normal university, Lebanon, O., and then went to the Lebanon, Tenn., law school. He was admitted to the bar in 1891. He began practicing in Celina, Tenn.,
and quickly got into politics,
going to the state legislature
from that district. He was appointed judge of the fifth judicial circuit in 1901, the state by then Governor Frazier. In 1903, four years later he was elected to the U. S. congress and served until defeated for re-election to the house in 1910 in the overwhelming landslide of the Republicans. He was considered for the chairmanship of the Democratic in 1916 when Homer S. Cummings retired, but George White was chosen finally. Hull succeeded White. His home is in Carthage, Tenn.

LOOKING BACKWARD

FORTY YEARS AGO

June 21, 1883.—S. C. Burnham, E. V. Baldwin, J. Wickham and J. S. F. Church, Janesville, were given offices in the Grand Temple of Honor, the state convention of which closed
here yesterday with election of officers.—Many complaints are being made lately about cattle
and horses running at large through the city streets.

THIRTY YEARS AGO

June 21, 1893.—Water users have been disregarding the law which says that lawn sprinkling must be done between 6 and 8 p. m., and as a result, some time ago, the city water
pipe, as pumping is stopped soon after eight o'clock.—Whalen, convicted murderer of Gerald Spaulding, has been found guilty and sentenced to 25 years in Waupun.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

June 21, 1903.—Waterloo, Ia., recently sold for ten dollars the "Water Witch" fire engine which Janesville sold to that city in 1871 for $800. It was then considered a model of its kind. Everything points to a successful season
for the county farm, with all the crops in good condition.

TEN YEARS AGO

June 21, 1913.—Those graduating from the University of Wisconsin this year from Janesville are William H. Spohn, John Sheridan, both with special honors, D. Albaugh, Jesse Menzies, Emma H. Richardson, Vincent H.
Koch, Philip E. Korst, Eleanor M. Enright, and Ruth Z. Wheeler.—W. S. Jeffris has been elected president of the Beloit College alumni association.

ceive glory and honor and power; for thou has created all things, and for thy pleasure they are and were cre-

Personal Health Service

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

Noted Physician and Author

THE VACATION EMERGENCY KIT

What with a thousand plausible
theories and systems of catching and
treating things, a suitable emergency
kit, not an extra suit of undies, becomes the paramount item to provide
for one's vacation. Here is a list of the simplest essentials of such an
emergency kit which may be carried
in a pocket of your coat, your car
or your traveling bag. It is only fair
that I should acknowledge my indebtedness to the author of "Personal Health" (W. B. Saunders Co., Philadelphia), particularly to the chapter
on first aid, which gives detailed directions concerning the treatment of
ordinary emergencies.

- Pocket Emergency Outfit
- 1.—One half ounce tincture of iodine in a strong vial.
  - 2.—Two sterilized gauze compresses in sealed envelopes.
  - 3.—Two two-inch gauze bandages.
  - 4.—Two ounce carton of absorbent cotton.
  - 5.—Spool of zinc oxide adhesive plaster one inch wide.
  - 6.—One half ounce flexible collodion in strong vial.
  - 7.—Collapsible tube of plain petrolatum or freshly made cold cream or zinc oxide or boric acid ointment.
  - 8.—One ounce aromatic spirits of ammonia in strong vial.
  - 9.—Two salicyl powders in waxed envelopes.
  - 10.—A dozen five grain acetyl salicylic acid tablets.

The acetyl salicylic acid is one of the least harmful painkillers for headache and similar conditions.
Prevention is generally acknowledged to be the best method of
fore do not cut corners or try to pass
the car ahead, just before you meet
the wayfarer who is coming up the other side of the hill. But if you feel that the greater the danger, the first person who comes along un-
wrap the kit, wind a bit of cotton on a match and give each of your sums and abrasions one swabbing
with the iodine. If there is not bleeding, the cut or abrasion may be sealed by painting on several coats
of the collodion with another wisp
of cotton wrapped on a matchstick.
If there is a gaping cut or wound,
the iodine having been swabbed on
and in it, a few strips of adhesive
plaster may be applied to draw the edges together, then a gauze com-
press and either a bandage or adhesive plaster to hold the dressing in place. We haven't time now to dwell upon the great importance of aseptic (not antiseptic) precautions
in all this emergency treatment, save
to say that no finger nor other unsterilized object should touch a wound.

For sunburn, ordinary burns, insect bites, blisters and the like, the

zinc oxide and boric acid ointment,
or freshly made cold cream or plain
kit, not an extra suit of undies, be-
comes the paramount item to provide
for one's vacation. Here is a list of
the simplest essentials of such an
emergency kit which may be carried
in a pocket of your coat, your car
or your traveling bag. It is only fair
that I should acknowledge my indebtedness to the author of "Personal
Health" (W. B. Saunders Co., Philadelphia), particularly to the chapter
on first aid, which gives detailed directions concerning the treatment of
ordinary emergencies.

Skin dries, do not, indeed they seem to make matters worse. It is most discouraging. My elbow looks dirty. The skin is harsh and scaly,
and it is the same on my legs, which I don't mind so much except in the swimming season. * * * (Miss E. E.)

Answer.—Eczyema, a skin disease, alliges your skin, and you must help yourself to your choice of names for it. In some instances it is just an outward manifestation of a disease of the blood which may be remedied by a course of medication under a doctor's supervision.
There is a deficiency of the natural oil
of the skin (sebum) which calls for artificial oiling. A few drops of olive oil rubbed into the skin after washing with soap and water will be of benefit.

What to Do With a Cyst.
I have a cyst on my finger which is very annoying. It has been treated by a doctor, but it does not go away. (Mrs.
K. H.)

Answer.—A cyst is a sac containing fluid. The only satisfactory remedy
is excision of the sac and contents,
which may be done after local anesthesia, by a good doctor.

The Young Hygienist.
Are there any germs in the scales
that fall off from a person's skin?
Has scarlet fever? Will drafts, cold
and damp weather make one more susceptible to respiratory diseases? (Miss U. S. B.)

Answer.—The germ of scarlet fever
has not been identified, but we know
the disease is not conveyed by the scales or through the peeling skin.
The scales, if they are in question, depend. If it is a question asked in an examination in school you had better
say yes, if it is your own question I say no.

strictly to information. The time and space given to each question is limited, and financial matters, if they do not attempt to settle domes-

of our service. Questions should be

are sent direct to the inquirer.)

Q. How long should flags be at half-mast on Decoration day? H. A. S.
A. From sunrise until noon.

Q. What percentage of the whole of the negro population of the whole of the District of Columbia? J. J. P.
A. The negro population is only 25.1 per cent of the total of 102,966.

Q. When putting a nut on the end of a pipe, does the nut weaken the end of the inside of the pipe?
J. S. K.
A. Cutting a male thread on the end of a pipe does not reduce the bore
of the pipe, but it should be observed that pipe threads are cut on a taper
while bolts and nuts are threaded straight. The greater pitch and deeper groove of common straight
threads will cause a nut to draw
inward, and a nut of standard
pitch of standard wrought pipe to such an extent as to leave very little thickness of metal at the root of the thread. With extra strong or double strength pipe the weakening effect would be much diminished.

Q. Is it a fact that electric wires
running through trees would kill them? M. A. G.
A. The forest service says that when electric wires come in contact with the foliage or any part of trees
the electricity will damage them seriously and perhaps in time kill them.

Q. What can be done to dissolve a fishbone lodged in the throat?
A. M. P.
A. It cannot be removed, sucking down will probably dissolve it.

Q. How do the great universities
rank in endowment? D. C. D.
A. Harvard has the largest endowment, then Columbia, Yale, Chicago, Stanford and Stanford.

Q. Who guards the White House?
D. J. H.
A. The government maintains a White House police force of 30 privates and three officers at a cost of $50,000 per annum.

Do You Know
How To Wash
Your Sweater?

Perhaps you are sending your sweaters to the cleaners when they become soiled. It may be that you don't realize that they can be laun-dered at home.
Nowadays when sweaters are so much in vogue that everyone owns
two or three, it is practical economy to do this work yourself.
Both silk and woolen sweaters
can be successfully washed, but
the work must be done carefully
and directions followed closely.
Government experts have made
an exhaustive study of every problem of the laundry and have worked out the best and proper
methods to use in washing silks,
woolens, cottons and linens.
The result of their work is contained in a free government publication which our Washington Information Bureau will secure for any of our readers. Just write your name and address clearly on the lines of the coupon below, and return postage.

NOTED DRAFT DODGER MAY SURRENDER

[By Associated Press.]
Kansas City — Grover Cleveland
Bergdoll, the war's most noted draft
dodger, offered to surrender late Wednesday, through the attorney for his brother, Erwin, just released from Fort Leavenworth after serving a term of more than two years for evading army service.
Erwin, rearrested outside the prison gates on a charge of conspiracy,
had just been admitted to $10,000 bail
by Federal Judge Van Valkenburgh.
Attorney J. B. Shewalter, his counsel, addressed the court and said he stood ready to produce Grover Berg-

doll if he was guaranteed that both
he and his brother would be given
trials "on the merits of the case."
Grover Cleveland Bergdoll is believed to be in Europe, where he has
"hidden out" from United States authorities for more than two years.

LATEST MARKET REPORT

GRAIN

Chicago Review.
Chicago.—Buying on the part of previous buyers of wheat upward in the Chicago market during the early days of the week. Estimates that the probable yield of wheat in Europe will be 25,000,000 to 40,000,000 bushels as a result of recent weather conditions. The bulk of the wheat crop is now being harvested. The most part, however, opinion apparently continues to lean on the bear side of the grain market. Prices, which varied from unchanged to 1c higher, with Sept. 1.04 1/4 and Dec. 1.04 1/4, were followed by slight further gains and then a somewhat sharp decline.

Subsequent to the closing of the market, both Sept. and Dec. down to a new low price record for the season, but signs of a fresh advance. The close was firm, 1/4c to 1/2c higher, with Sept. 1.04 1/4 and Dec. 1.04 1/4.

Corn and oats were firmer in the absence of any decided pressure to sell. After a decline of 1/4c to 1/2c, Sept. 77 1/2 and Dec. 78 1/2, the corn market showed material upturn all around the 10c to 15c reaction.

Houses with eastern connections bought July corn rather than the temporary weakness in wheat. Corn closed firm, 1/4c to 1/2c higher, with Sept. 77 1/2 and Dec. 78 1/2.

Oats started unchanged to a shade higher, Sept. 37 1/2 and Dec. 38 1/2. Later all markets showed a slight advance. In the provision market firmness of grain counted off the effect of lower quotations for wheat.

THE STUDEBAKER LIGHT-SIX TOURING CAR

A Real Achievement in Dollar-for-dollar Value

The thousands of Studebaker Light-Sixes in daily use are the best possible assurance of what may be expected next year—or several years hence—of the Light-Six you buy today.

For after all, the best way to judge a new motor car is by what it has done—how it has stood up in service—the satisfaction it has delivered.

We sincerely believe that the Light-Six Touring Car, with its improved all-steel body, is the sturdiest, handsomest, most comfortable, most dependable and economical low-priced car built.

The machining of all surfaces of the crankshaft and connecting rods, to which is largely due its practical absence of vibration, is a practice used by Studebaker exclusively on cars at this price and is found only on a few other cars whose selling prices are from three to ten times as high as the Light-Six.

The one-piece, rain-proof windshield with parking lights set in the base, is a joy to the driver—nothing to mar his view of the road ahead. Deep, fat cushions are upholstered in genuine leather. Curtains, bound on three sides by steel rods, open with the doors and provide closed car coziness in bad weather.

The most seasoned driver will find a new thrill in the smooth, quiet, steady performance of the Light-Six—and in its ease of handling, and in the way it performs in high gear at low speeds—eliminating constant gear shifting.

The name Studebaker has stood for high grade transportation, quality, value and integrity for 71 years.

Southern Wis. Harness Matinees to Draw 1,000 Entries

Copyright 1920, by Geo. McManus

PURSES WILL HIT MARK OF $39,000; HUGE SEASON DUE

Southern Wisconsin is due for the greatest harness season in its history. Reports from the six fairs that annually are held in this district show an aggregate of $12 early entries. These figures, it is indicated, are bound to be increased before the first group heads the starter. It is estimated that close to 1,000 entries will be made for these events this season. Of course, there will be repetitions in horses among this number.

Elkhorn is the lead for these fairs this year with total $29,000. Elkhorn's great Walworth county fair tops the list of all southern Wisconsin matinees this season with purses aggregating $10,000. This fair always has been a record breaker, but in the past two years the officials have gone out in a big way that ranks them close on to the Wisconsin state fair.

Here is the way the purses are held up this season:

Elkhorn, $10,000; Janesville, $7,500; Madison, $7,200; Monroe, $7,000; Evansville, $5,500; Jefferson, $3,000.

Elkhorn, Janesville, Madison and Monroe are members of the Wisconsin Grand circuit, Milwaukee making the sixth.

The early entry lists are topped by Elkhorn. A total of 320 early entries are recorded on the books of the fair. Janesville comes second with 215. Madison is third with 125. Monroe has 109. Evansville has the fewest of 66. Jefferson has no entry list, but it is expected that 100 entries will be made.

SHURTLEFFS HAVE DEEDS SIGNED BY TWO PRESIDENTS

Two papers of great value historically, and of constantly increasing value, are possessed by Mr. and Mrs. George A. Shurtleff, 315 South Main street. Both are deeds of land in Columbia county, Wisconsin, made out by Mrs. Shurtleff and Mr. Shurtleff's father, respectively. One, dated 1849, is signed by the president, Zachary Taylor; the other, 1853, by "the president, James Buchanan."

Going through some old papers a few days ago, Mrs. Shurtleff ran across this old one that had belonged to her father, James Thomas, Jr., and dated 1849. It showed he had died 49 acres of land in Columbia county, where he then lived, and was part of the land subject to sale at Mineral Point. The president's signature occurred twice, the first time signed an almost illegible "Zachary," the other just "Z. Taylor." Ink has become brown and in spots is becoming indistinct, and on the outside of the deed cannot even be read. The script is of the old cursive kind popular in the day.

The deed given to William A. Shurtleff, father of George A. Shurtleff, is signed June 1, 1853, and deeds him 120 acres in Columbia county. Here again are two signatures of the president, this time James Buchanan, and in the case of this paper is also beginning to turn brown.

While both Mr. and Mrs. Shurtleff came from Columbia county, their home has been in Janesville for 48 years. Shurtleff Ice Cream company and the Shurtleff Ice Cream company and the Shurtleff Candy company. Forty years ago in a restaurant, paying mostly to the dance and big party trade.

Johnson Wants
CLEAN HEALTH BILL
Such charges, and it is because I want my name cleared from any such incident that I am demanding an investigation. There is no finer or more upright group of men in the town than the members of the Wisconsin assembly. I have never seen a drunken man on the assembly floor. I know that for the most part the members do not patronize wild parties and night clubs. I have even so much as accepted a cigar in return for a favorable vote on some bill. I have not heard of it.

Johnson is a legislator. These charges are unjust and uncalled for slander against our legislators and should be investigated and proven false. Some members are of the opinion that we should keep quiet on the subject and pay no attention to such charges, but I believe silence on our part would be acquiescence, the public will believe the charges true. We owe it to ourselves to deny them, and prove them false.

Mr. Johnson said he had no idea as to whether his resolution would be adopted or killed by the assembly. He had talked to other members concerning it, he said, but introduced it solely on his own initiative. "I felt conscience-bound to seek to free my name from any fifth which irresponsible mud-slingers have seen fit to cover it. I have introduced this resolution and that is all that I can do. The assembly can do with it what it sees fit."

Up to Next Legislature
"If this legislature does not put its house in order before it adjourns, my next assured that the next legislature will do some investigating. The senate is now looking into the record of the past legislature."

Mr. Johnson's resolution was entirely unexpected. Although investigation talks had been in the senate for the last week or two, there has been no hint of such a thing in the lower house. The resolution went to the committee on revision and after being printed will be placed in the calendar for some day next week.

Other members on the organization committee are: Stephen Bolles, Mrs. J. C. Rexford, Miss Margaret Gaxley, Captain Fort Glimshaw, Mrs. John R. Nichols, Miss Agnes Grant, the Rev. F. J. ## BOY VIOLINIST IS KILLED BY AUTO

Richard Anhalt and Others on Trip from Jefferson to Ladysmith.

Jefferson—Funeral services were held here Wednesday for 7-year-old Richard Anhalt, 111 W. 4th st., a promising violinist and grandson of Charles Trager, who was the victim of an automobile accident near Wilkes, Wis., Monday. Trager, the driver of the car, escaped but his wife and sister, Miss Mayme Trager, Jefferson, were slightly injured and Miss Speidel, Ladysmith, Wis., druggist, and chief of the Ladysmith fire department, was seriously injured.

The accident was just east of the little village of Wilkes, on the Sauk and Western railroad, when the automobile driven by Trager and headed for Ladysmith where the city was taking Mr. and Mrs. Speidel home from the Bremen's tournament, skidded into a ditch and turned turtle. The Anhalt child was in the front seat with his grandfather and was pinned beneath the overturned car. He died an hour after being removed. The driver of the other car did not stop.

The Trager car went into the ditch and turned turtle when a car which Trager attempted to pass failed to give him half of the road.

Fortunately the horn was kept sounding and attracted four men who helped lift the automobile and remove the two women and the child. The two women, Mrs. Speidel, were taken to Wilkes, and Speidel with a badly torn scalp and injuries to his chest to a hospital at Chippewa Falls. The party left Jefferson early Monday and had nearly reached their destination. The Anhalt boy's body was brought to Jefferson by train. The Rev. Carl Reitz, Port Atkinson, officiated at the funeral services. The father of the boy, Hugo Anhalt, is a teacher of music in Milwaukee normal, where he has been five years. The president and five instructors in Milwaukee Normal attended the funeral.
